COMMITTEE ROOM, AUSTIN, July 11, 1845.

To the Hon. THOS. J. RUSK,

President of the Convention:

The committee, to whom was referred the Bill of Rights and

General Provisions of the Constitution, have had the former under consideration, and have given it that investigation and deliberation which its importance seems to demand; and with the design to secure the great and fundamental principles of liberty, have agreed to the following, which they have instructed me to report to the Convention, and recommend its adoption.

ISAAC VAN ZANDT,
Chairman of the Committee.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

That the general, great and essential principles of Liberty and Free Government may be recognized and established, we declare:

ARTICLE

1st. That all political power is inherent in the people; and all free governments are founded on their authority, and instituted for their benefit; and they have, at all times, the unalienable right to alter, reform, or abolish, their form of government, in such manner as they may think expedient.

2nd. All freemen, when they form a social compact, have equal rights; and that no man, or set of men, are entitled to exclusive separate public emoluments or privileges, but in consideration of public services.

3rd. No religious test shall ever be required, as a qualification to any office or public trust, under this State.

4th. All men have a natural and indefeasible right to worship God, according to the dictates of their own consciences; that no man shall be compelled to attend, erect, or support, any place of worship, or to maintain any ministry, against his consent; that no human authority ought, in any case whatever, to control or interfere with the rights of conscience; and that no preference shall ever be given, by law, to any religious societies, or modes of worship.

5th. Every citizen shall be at liberty to speak, write, or publish his opinions, on any subject—being responsible for the abuse of that privilege; and no law shall ever be passed, curtailing the liberty of speech, or of the press.

6th. In all prosecutions for the publication of papers investigating the official conduct of officers, or men in a public capacity, the truth thereof may be given in evidence; and in all indictments for libels, the jury shall have a right to determine the law and the facts, under the direction of the court, as in other cases.

7th. The people shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and possessions, from all unreasonable seizures or searches; and no warrant to search any place, or to seize any person or thing, shall issue without describing them, as near as may be; nor without probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation.

8th. Prosecutions shall be by indictment, or information. The accused shall have a speedy public trial, by an impartial jury; he shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself; he shall have the right of being heard by himself, or counsel, or both; shall be confronted with the witnesses against him; and shall have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor.

9th. All prisoners shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offences, when the proof is evident, or the presumption great; but this provision shall not be so construed as to prohibit, after indictment found, an examination of the evidence by a judge of the Supreme or District Court, upon a writ of habeas corpus, returnable in the county where the offence is committed.

10th. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, except when, in case of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require it.

11th. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, or cruel or unusual punishment inflicted. All courts shall be open; and every man, for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person, or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law.

12th. No person, for the same offence, shall be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; and the right of trial by jury, shall remain inviolate.

13th. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or any law impairing the obligation of contracts, shall be made; nor vested rights be divested; unless for purposes of public utility, and for adequate compensation previously made.

14th. No person shall ever be imprisoned for debt.

15th. No citizen of this state shall be deprived of life, liberty, property, or privileges, outlawed, exiled, or in any manner disfranchised, except by due course of the law of the land.

16th. Emigration from this State, shall not be prohibited.

17th. The military shall, at all times, be subordinate to the civil authority.

18th. Those who conscientiously scruple to bear arms in the public defence, shall not be compelled to do so, but shall pay an equivalent for personal service.

19th. Perpetuities or monopolies are contrary to the genius of a free government, and shall never be allowed; nor shall the law of primogeniture or entailments, ever be in force in this State.

20th. The citizens shall have the right, in a peaceable manner, to assemble together for their common good; and to apply to those invested with the powers of government, for redress of grievances, or other proper purposes, by petition, address, or remonstrance.

21st. No power of suspending laws, in this State, shall be exercised, except by the General Assembly, or its authority.

22d. To guard against transgressions of the high powers herein delegated, we declare that every thing in this Bill of Rights is excepted out of the general powers of government, and shall forever remain inviolate; and all laws contrary thereto. or to the following provisions, shall be void.

Charles A. Wickliffe, which was ordered to be read, as follows :

“AUSTIN, 10th July, 1845.

“SIR :—I have this moment received your favor, enclosing to me a copy of the resolution of the Convention of Texas, now in session, tendering to me as one of President Tyler’s cabinet, the expression of the approbation of the Convention, therein, of the course pursued by me, upon the subject of annexation.

“The question of the annexation of Texas to the United States was, by me, and I may be permitted to say, by those with whom it was my good fortune to be associated, well considered, both in reference to Texas and the United States. The interests of both nations demanded the union ; and the union will protect and perpetuate the interest of both. It was a question which involved the cause of free governments in this hemisphere. How could I, the advocate of free institutions, and of the right of the people to govern themselves, better serve that cause in my recent official station, than to advocate the annexation of Texas to the Union, upon terms honorable to both nations, and thereby extend over her citizens, the protecting and conservative principles of our Federal Constitution, which their fathers aided to establish ?

“I viewed the question as one purely American, with which the powers of Europe had no right to meddle ; and I am proud to believe it has so been considered by the people of Texas. I congratulate you, sir, and the people of the two countries, on the consummation of this great question ; and render to the Convention, my thanks, for the favorable expression of their opinion of my official conduct.

“The destiny of Texas, as a member of our confederacy, is in the hands of the Convention now assembled to form, for the people, a constitution.

“I will not permit myself to doubt, that the representatives of a people whose bravery, and love of liberty, have achieved so much for themselves, will fail to provide for their country, an organic law which shall secure to them, and their posterity, the blessings of civil and religious liberty.

“For the kind manner in which you have been pleased to communicate the resolution of the Convention, and the sentiments personal to myself, I pray you to accept my profound acknowledgment.

“I am, with great respect,

“Your fellow-citizen,

So the motion was lost.

The ayes and noes being called, on the adoption of the resolution, stood as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. President Rusk, Anderson, Armstrong of J., Armstrong of R., Baylor, Bache, Brashear, Caldwell, Cazneau, Cunningham, Evans, Everts, Gage, Hemphill, Horton, Howard, Hunter, Jewett, Jones, Kinney, Latimer of L., Love, Mayfield, M'Neill, Moore, Navarro, Standefer, Tarrant, White and Wright—30.

Noes—Messrs. Brown, Clark, Cuney, Darnell, Forbes, Henderson, Hicks, Hogg, Holland, Irion, Latimer of R. R., Lewis, Lumpkin, Lipscomb, M'Gowan, Miller, Parker, Power, Rains, Scott, Smyth, Ochiltree, Van Zandt, Wood and Young—25.

So the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Evans, from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, to whom was referred the memorial of John G. Chambers, praying for a seat in this Convention, as a delegate from the county of Bowie, made the following report, counter to the majority of said committee:

COMMITTEE ROOM, July 10, 1845.

To the Hon. T. J. RUSK,

President of the Convention :

The undersigned, one of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, to whom was referred the memorial of John G. Chambers, of Bowie county, praying for a seat in the Convention, as a delegate from said county, dissenting from the positions assumed by a majority of said committee, in the report of their chairman, begs to make the following counter report:

That as early as the year 184—, by an act of Congress, a portion of the territory of the county of Bowie was detached and added to a portion of the territory of Red River county, lying south of the Sulphur Fork of Red River, and erected into the judicial county of Paschal; and the citizens of the said judicial county were required to vote with Red River county. Subsequently, a decision of the Supreme Court of the Republic of Texas, declared counties established merely for judicial purposes, unconstitutional. By an act of the Congress of 184—, the territory comprising the county of Paschal reverted, respectively, to the counties of Red River and Bowie. At the session of 1842—'43, by an act entitled "An act to provide for the holding of the district court in two places in the county of Red River," the territory formerly composing the county of Paschal was made, in all respects, subject to the jurisdiction of the county of Red River; this act of the Congress was declared unconstitutional, by a decision of the Supreme Court. This decision left the citizens of this unfortunate territory, whose rights had been the subject of so many legislative enactments and judicial dicta, in doubt whether the decision of the Supreme Court extended so far, as to declare the whole act creating the southern division of Red River, or only to so much of it as allowed the holding of the district court in two places in said county; and so far did this uncertainty obtain, that at the holding of the last annual election, at several of the precincts, no poll was opened. An election was, however, held at a number of the precincts within the disputed territory, which polled 165 votes—which, added to 189 votes polled in the remainder of Bowie county, would make 354 votes, and clearly entitle said county of Bowie to two delegates, without disturbing the right of Red River county to three delegates. The last annual Congress, by an act, re-established the original lines of boundary between the counties of Bowie and Red River. At the election for sheriff, in the month of February last, the county of Bowie polled 435 votes; and the vote of two boxes were not counted, which would have increased the number to near 500.

This district of county comprises, within its limits, over 30 miles square, containing over three hundred voters; which fact was overlooked by the President when he issued his proclamation, recommending the call of a convention, and apportioning the delegation to the same.

The undersigned is unable to discover the delegation of any right, to any department of the Government, to disfranchise a large and respectable portion of the people; much less can he sanction such a procedure, when it emanates from a high stretch of unauthorized power, and is, even then, the result of error or mistake.

The undersigned would, therefore, recommend the passage of the following resolutions.

L. D. EVANS.

Resolved, That the territory comprised within the present limits of the county of Bowie, voted, at the last annual elections, over three hundred votes, and is entitled to two deputies in the Convention.

Be it further resolved, That John G. Chambers, having received the second highest number of votes polled in said county for deputies, is entitled to a seat in this Convention.

Which report and resolutions, together with the report of the majority of the committee, were taken up.

Mr. Parker moved to refer them to the Committee on the Judiciary. Lost.

On motion of Mr. Van Zandt, the House went into committee of the whole, Mr. Baylor in the chair: after a short time spent therein, the committee rose, reported progress, and asked to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Adopted.

The question being the adoption of the counter report,

On motion of Mr. Forbes, a call of the House was ordered.

On motion of Mr. Van Zandt, the call was suspended.

Mr. Gage offered the following amendment to the resolution offered by Mr. Evans:

“Be it further resolved, That the county of Rusk be allowed two deputies in this Convention—one in addition to the one now occupying a seat in this body.”

Rejected.

The ayes and noes being called, on the adoption of the report and resolutions of Mr. Evans, stood as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. Anderson, Armstrong of R., Brown, Cazneau, Clark, Evans, Everts, Hemphill, Holland, Jewett, Latimer of L., Latimer of R. R., Mayfield, Standefer, Tarrant, Van Zandt, Wright and Young—18.

Noes—Messrs. President Rusk, Armstrong of J., Baylor, Bache, Brashear, Caldwell, Cuney, Darnell, Forbes, Gage, Henderson, Hogg, Horton, Howard, Hunter, Irion, Jones, Kinney, Love, Lumpkin, Lipscomb, McGowan, McNeill, Miller, Moore, Navarro, Parker, Power, Rains, Smyth, Ochiltree, White and Wood—33.

So the report and resolutions were rejected.

Mr. Tarrant moved to adjourn until 8 o'clock, to-morrow morning.

Mr. Young moved to adjourn until half after 8 o'clock.

The ayes and noes being called for, stood—ayes, 19; noes, 31.

The ayes and noes being called for, stood—ayes, 19; noes, 32.

Mr. Hicks moved to adjourn until half after 9 o'clock, to-morrow. Lost.

On motion of Mr. Mayfield, the report of the majority of the committee was laid on the table.

On motion of Mr. Kinney, the Convention adjourned until 9 o'clock, to-morrow morning.

SATURDAY, July 12, 1845.

Present—Messrs.
